

Add an attorney, deputy or representative

If the account holder becomes unwell or unable to make financial decisions, they can appoint someone to help manage their Marcus account(s).

Completing the below form will mean the representatives who hold a power of attorney or other powers given under a court order can open, manage, close and view a Marcus account(s) including any joint accounts held, and make payments. They may legally act on the account holder's behalf to help make financial decisions.

What you need to know:

- We will not provide the account holder's representative separate online access to the account(s) but they will be able to manage the account(s) over the phone.
- If the representative has legal authority to act on our customer's behalf, they may choose to set up online access using their own details if the account holder no longer has capacity to manage their own affairs.
- We can only give online banking access to one party at a time, either donor or attorney.

Authority to act will apply across all accounts held across Marcus (including joint accounts), including any subsequent accounts opened, unless you tell us otherwise.

To open a Cash ISA on behalf of someone else, please call us before filling in this form as additional rules apply to ISAs. Or if you have a question or would like any support completing this form, please call us on 0800 085 6789. Our opening hours are 8am to 8pm, Monday to Friday (excluding bank holidays). We can then advise you on the next steps.
